

Social Leadership Singapore (SLS) Programme

Social Leadership Singapore (SLS) is an experiential and intense programme aimed at generating breakthroughs for the nonprofit sector that can improve the well-being and quality of life of Singaporeans, and at transforming participants who attend. SLS is also established to develop a network of leaders with the capacity, understanding, skills and commitment to contribute towards our future wellbeing. It reflects our belief that a network of committed individuals working together can make a significant difference and bring about profound change. SLS is designed and led by Prof. Dean Williams and supported by a pool of experienced consultants.

YOU WILL LEARN

- How to provide leadership for strengthening the social and cultural fabric of society
- Valuable strategies and tools on how to harness resources and mobilise people to face demanding challenges and accomplish desired aims
- How to enhance their capacity to diagnose, frame and provide leadership for the different kinds of adaptive challenges that must be addressed
- How to develop a deeper grasp of the complexity and interdependence of all parts of society as it pertains to their area of concern and contribution
- How to increase their capacity for cross-sector collaboration and support
- How to develop a greater awareness of how personal values, philosophies, biases and self-knowledge influence one's leadership style and approach
